April court term starts Monday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Walter Bodden will be tried for manslaughter beginning Monday, April 1 in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Bodden allegedly killed Nathan Hoda approximately one year ago. Hoda's body was found on Interstate 10.

Public defender William Frisbee is representing Bodden, who was apprehended in New Orleans following the incident.

Also scheduled for this week is the sentencing of Hancock residents Virginia Guilbeau and Gregory Ladner and Cuban national Lazaro Raoul Rojas.

Rojas, who has been held in the Hancock County jail for over a year, pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of possession with intent to distribute 5,100 pounds of marijuana.

Ladner had pleaded guilty to the same charge March 11.

Following a four-day trial which concluded March 14, Guilbeau was found guilty of possession with the intent to distribute the 5,100 pounds of marijuana which was seized by law enforcement agents at her Kiln residence in March 1984.

Sentencing for these three is set for Friday, April 4.

Frisbee will also represent Randy Powell and George Singleton who are scheduled to be tried for the alleged burglary of a home in the Bayou Phillips subdivision.

Sammy Jordan will also be tried during this term. He is charged with the burglaries of Bay St. Louis businesses including The Sea Coast COURT—Page 8A

Four burglaries, 1 robbery reported in Bay St. Louis

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Three white males posing as floor covering installers robbed Bay St. Louis resident Zoeia McCulloch Friday.

The robbers, carrying a roll of linoleum, gained access to Mrs. McCulloch's State Street residence by saying they were going to install the floor covering which she had won free of charge.

Mrs. McCulloch told Bay Police officers, once inside, the men had locked the door and forced her into a corner while they took cash, four diamond rings and a watch from her purse.

After taking the items from Mrs. McCulloch's purse, the robbers ran outside where they were seen leaving in a brown Ford pickup.

The truck reportedly had a Texas license plate.

Neighbors told police officers, the truck had been spotted near the house for approximately a half hour before the 12 noon incident.

Only brief descriptions of the robbers were available. The driver of the truck reportedly is 55-60 years old and wearing a blue fishing cap with pins on it.

The second robber is described as young, tall, thin, wearing blue jeans and a cap. The third suspect was reportedly wearing a tan shirt with brown slacks, 5'9" to 5'10", in middle 30's, and stockily built.

Anyone with information on these men should contact the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Three businesses reported break-ins Friday.

Bay Police responded to a burglar alarm at ABC Rental after midnight Thursday and spotted a large male running from the building.

The burglar, who eluded police officers by running into the woods, had apparently cut through the east side of the fence to get inside.

Two crowbars were found at the site.

Nearby businesses, H&R Block and State Farm Insurance, reported Friday that they had been robbed.

Police officers said the burglar was apparently only interested in money as nothing else in the businesses was taken.

According to the police report, $452 was taken from H&R Block but nothing from the insurance office.

The burglar gained entrance to both of these buildings by forcing open a back door.

Police officials said there was a suspect under investigation in connection with the burglaries.

Another burglary was reported Saturday by officials at St. Stanislaus.

Grass mowers discovered a 30-foot section of a batting cage at the school being missing.

Estimated cost of the batting cage is $850.

Postal official says Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor post offices not recommended for shutdown

BY DENA BISNETTE

The U.S. Postal Service has taken no action to close post offices in Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

According to Norman Dilley, manager of the postal service's sectional center in Gulfport, a letter listing the two post offices as among those proposed for closure originated with the National Association of Postmasters.

"The people in these communities have been alarmed for no reason. What we're hearing about is some old information someone has resurrected," Dilley said in a telephone interview Friday.

According to Dilley, the proposal to close about 1,200 of the country's small post offices originated about three years ago with a group of congressmen called the Grace Commission, which was asked by President Ronald Reagan to look into cutting federal spending.

The association's letter, he said, lists post offices that might be affected if the proposal were carried out today.

Dilley added that the procedure for closing a post office, according to law, must begin with a recommendation from the sectional manager.

"I have not made such a recommendation for either Clermont Harbor or Lakeshore," he said.

That recommendation must be approved through state, regional and federal levels and returned to the sectional center for public input before final approval can be granted.

"We heard that all the little post offices would be closed, but we have never been given a specific date and we haven't heard anything from Gulfport," said Bertie Jensen, postmaster at Lakeshore.

"This may be just a proposal, but the community is very upset," she added, explaining that civic associations in both communities are already planning methods to oppose any actions toward closure.

"We are just getting ready and if we close, we'll go down fighting."

If the two post offices are closed in the future, mail service for the two communities can be added to existing rural routes operated by the Bay St. Louis post office, Bay St. Louis Postmaster Tom Hill said.

The rural route offers basically the same type of service as a post office, with the exception of locking post office boxes, Hill said.

It could be considered less convenient, Hill said, since service hours are determined by what time the rural carrier stops on his route.

"You can't just run in to pick up your mail or send a package anytime you want to the way you can at a post office," he explained.

Lakeshore's post office presently has about 300 customers with post office boxes along with a few regular customers who use general delivery. Clermont Harbor's post office serves about 200 boxholders.

PASS K-CLASSES

The Pass Christian School District is concluding final pre-registration for kindergarten classes for the 1985-86 school term.

A limited number of slots are available in the programs.

A special registration period, beginning April 1 and ending April 12 has been set to fill the remaining available slots.

Those parents who desire to have their child(ren) participate in the kindergarten program during the next school year are urged to register the child(ren) immediately before all available slots are filled.

Registration will be closed when all slots are filled.

Registration will be conducted daily between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the office of the elementary schools.

Plans for youth center underway, commission seeks public assistance

Officers and members of the board of directors were named at the organizational meeting for the Hancock County Youth Center Commission.

Temporary officers named include Herta Smith, president, Judith Childs, secretary, Eartha Acker, treasurer, and Calvin Smith, public relations.

These Hancock County residents met Tuesday along with Robert Welz, Bay Auxiliary police chief, Ronald Peterson, Hancock County Sheriff, Willie C. Acker, City Councilman Gary Griffin, Percy McKay and Sid Sandoz to discuss plans for a centrally located county-wide youth center.

This group encourages all county and community action groups to come forward to lend their service and expertise to the development of this recreational program.

"The prospects of such a fantastic park and recreational program are limitless," Herta Smith said. "There are many people out there with various needs that need to be met."

County and community groups such as youth groups, civic organizations, churches or 4-H clubs, along with individuals including architects, attorneys, construction experts and others are encouraged by the commission to serve as leaders and volunteer their service in the development of this program.

Commission members will be working to develop community relationships and acting as a liaison between the existing recreation department, the school system, business men and women and private recreational facilities to utilize their assistance whenever possible.

The commission plans to develop a special services program that will meet recreational needs of a special section of the population including the physically and mentally disabled, multihandicapped, visually impaired, emotionally recovering.

"In essence, this recreation program is being designed to meet the needs of all county residents," Smith said. "It is our responsibility to make this recreational program a reality."

Recreation, what is it? "Recreation is a growing and interesting field of employment, but it also has therapeutic and intrinsic values that we sometime fail to recognize," she said.

Smith said to a certain extent the recreational needs to the young and athletic types who can involve themselves in active sports have been taken care of but those youngsters who are not athletic have not been reached.

"What about the disabled county residents who have a desire to participate in their own special way, what about the senior citizens who can no longer participate in these active programs? There is a need to satisfy their recreational appetites too," she said.

"We want to continually participate through other forms of recreation, art, music and drama because these recreational activities can be enjoyed by all regardless of age, race, sex or disability."

"However, we want to build an all encompassing program and it will take involvement by all our county citizens to make this program a reality," Smith said.

Commercial fishing license purchase deadline is today

Deadline for purchase of 1985 commercial fishing licenses is today, according to the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources.

Tommy Quinn of Long Beach, BMR spokesman, said license purchasers in Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian will be open Sunday.

The deadline will not be extended to Monday, fishermen not holding valid licenses must purchase one today, Quinn stressed.

In Bay St. Louis, licenses may be purchased Sunday at All American Sports Shop, 1000 Blue Ave.

Donald and Sue Bone, license vendors who also handle Louisiana licenses, will be at the Quinn location.

Bay St. Louis residents may also purchase licenses at the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, 1000 Blue Ave.

Quinn and Bone must have current U.S. Coast Guard licenses, which can also be purchased at the Quinn location.

County officials to visit modular jail in Florida

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County officials plan to travel to Ocala, Fla., Tuesday to look at a new type of jail.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson addressed the board of supervisors Thursday concerning the trip and asked that some of the board members or their representatives participate.

Peterson said the trip was arranged by Circuit Judge Ruble Griffin because the design of the Ocala jail has characteristics fitting the jail needs of Hancock County.

According to Peterson, the Ocala jail is a modular-type facility designed to allow a single jailer to oversee more than 90 prisoners. It meets federal standards but keeps staff expenses to a minimum, the sheriff said.

"We need to look at this type of thing for our new jail," said Peterson, saying that he is concerned about possible operating expenses of a new jail planned for construction on county property fronting Court Street.

Supervisors Sam Perniciaro and James Travica, board attorney Walter Gex III and jail architect Fred Wagner plan to fly to Ocala Tuesday from Stennis Airport. Peterson said he will be unable to accompany them due to court commitments.

In other business Thursday, the supervisors discussed animal control in the county after hearing a complaint from Steve Daigrepoint.

Daigrepoint, a resident of Red Street off Tigris Road, complained about two dogs which are allowed to run loose in his neighborhood.

He showed the supervisors a tire he said came from a Coast Electric meter-reader's truck, alleging that one of the dogs bit the tire while the other attempted to attack the meter reader.

He said the dogs, a German shepherd and a pit bulldog, are aggressive toward anyone who enters the neighborhood.

"I'm afraid one of them will bite my wife or my grandchild, or somebody else," he explained. "The man who owns them lives next door to me and told me to shoot them if they come on my property, but I think he'll sue me," Daigrepoint said.

He asked for the supervisors' help in controlling the dogs and numerous other animals kept by the same owner, who, Daigrepoint said, apparently makes no effort to restrain his pets.

The board authorized Lisle Dedeaux, county ranger and dog warden, to look into the matter.

Dedeaux has accepted the recently created position of county dog warden for approximately a month to see if it conflicts with his other duties.

Cel Dumestre of the Hancock County Animal Control Commission also addressed the board, explaining that the commission can provide Dedeaux with dog catching equipment. However, Dedeaux is using his own vehicle and needs some kind of mileage payment or county-provided fuel.

The board authorized Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise to make arrangements for supplying Dedeaux with fuel or mileage payments.

In addition, the board took bids on a new car for the sheriff's department; heard a report from Public Defender William Frisbie on the need for more funding for his office; took bids for phone service for the courthouse; and discussed panelling the boardroom and courtroom.

The board also passed two resolutions. One was requested by Mary Caillier of the Clermont Harbor Civic Association and opposes proposals to close post offices at Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

The other resolution was requested by Jeff Taylor of the Gulf Coast Regional Planning Commission and supports a water study being conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Part of the study will address the repair of sand beaches in Hancock County.

Hancock Exchange Club plans holiday flag display program

The Hancock County Exchange Club will call on businesses in Bay St. Louis and Waveland to promote a club effort to establish these two cities as "Flag Capital" of this area.

Plans are to sell subscriptions to business and professional establishments whereby the Exchange Club will display flags at those businesses on six holidays per year.

Club members will put flags up during early morning hours and remove them in late afternoon on Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day.

The Club will own and maintain the flags.

"It is our hope that every business in this area will subscribe to this program, and that our communities will become nationally recognized as the most patriotic and devoted in the nation in expressing pride in our heritage through displaying the flag in unity," said Billy Steckman, club spokesman.

The Exchange Club, newest service club in Hancock County, but one of the oldest established national service clubs, meets Thursday at noon at Todd's Steak House, US-90, Waveland.

County Agent's Notes

PERMANENT PASTURES

Producers planning to establish perennial summer grass for pasture or hay production in the Spring of 1985 should begin planning and some preparation to help assure the best results according to Bill McKie, Area Agronomy Specialist.

There appears to be an increased interest in re-establishing to permanent grass many areas that were taken out of grass in recent years and planted to row crops.

Very often, pastures that were plowed up were not suited to row crop production and their productivity has now dropped to the level that row crops are no longer profitable.

In many instances soil erosion has extracted a terrific toll and it will require years of good management to bring these areas back to anywhere near the production level that existed before they were plowed up.

Some producers seem to think that establishing a good grass sod will correct rather quickly the several years' abuse, but this is not necessarily the case.

Undoubtedly, the best practice for these soils is to establish a good grass or grass-legume cover but it will require patience and a good management program to bring many of these soils back to a profitable level of production.

The greatest interest appears to be in establishing one of the hybrid bermudagrasses primarily because of their quality and potential high productivity.

Land coming out of row crops is ideal for Tifton 44, Coastal and Alicia bermudagrass, as there probably will be little competition from other perennial grasses.

However, fields that have a history of common bermudagrass or bahiagrass should be checked closely for the existing level of these grasses as they are very competitive with the hybrid bermudagrasses.

Re-establishment of common bermudagrass or bahiagrass in fields where partial stands of these grasses are growing is usually the most economical program. The hybrid bermudagrasses must be planted from rootstock or mature topgrowth which makes them rather expensive to establish.

When areas to be established next spring are determined, a soil sample should be taken immediately. The recommended lime, phosphate and potash should be worked into the soil prior to planting.

A good soil analysis is the only way to be sure the fertility requirements for high production will be provided.

At planting apply a low rate of nitrogen (30 lbs. or less) to reduce the stimulation of competitive grass and weeds before the hybrid becomes established. When the bermudagrass begins putting out runners, apply 60-70 lbs. of nitrogen per acre under good growing conditions.

A source of planting material for the hybrid bermudagrass should be located and arrangements made for securing this material or for getting a complete planting job done.

Be sure planting material comes from fields free of undesirable grasses. Bahiagrass and common bermudagrass are planted from seed and these seed should be booked early as prices increase and quality often drops as the planting season approaches.

A good seedbed is desirable and justified by the high cost of planting material or seed. Shallow cultivation over a several week period to destroy weeds is suggested following the original breaking.

When planting seed, cultipack loose seedbeds before and after seeding. This packing will help assure rapid germination and reduce puddling of seed if a heavy rain occurs.

In fields where a good tall growing type of common bermudagrass is already present, spot seeding may be all that is needed. Common bermudagrass seeded in the spring usually produces a good stand by mid-summer but should not be overgrazed.

Bahiagrass often contains a large percentage of hard seed that may not germinate immediately, so first year stands are often thin and also requires good grazing management.

Tifton 44 and Coastal establish best from rhizomes or stolons (rootstock). They usually do not establish as well from topgrowth unless good moisture conditions occur following planting. When topgrowth is used, it must be mature (very stemmy) for best results.

Alicia is not a heavy rhizome producer, so stemmy, mature topgrowth is best used for its establishment. The newly released hybrid bermudagrass, Tifton 78 appears to establish equally as well from rhizomes and topgrowth based on field observations over this last summer. Planting material of Tifton 78 will be very limited for the 1985 planting season.

When planting topgrowth, care must be taken to keep this plant material from drying out and the quicker planting can be done after harvest the better. The hybrid bermutagrasses have the genetic ability to respond to high rates of nitrogen and produce large tonnages of quality forage.

Generally the ranking of these grasses for quality would be Tifton 44, Coastal, then Alicia. However, Alicia is the easiest of these hybrid bermudagrasses to establish. Tifton 44 will require very good management the year it is planted and usually provides only limited forage as it uses this time for root development.

The second season Tifton 44 will grow very fast and provide quick coverage. A good weed control program is necessary the year of establishment for all hybrids to assure coverage by the bermudagrass.

To justify the establishment cost of the hybrid bermudagrasses, they must be highly fertilized, managed and utilized. Contact your County Extension Service for complete production information on these grasses.

Tomorrow marks the 40th anniversary of the invasion of Okinawa during World War II.

There are many folks living in Hancock County today who well remember the invasion.

Some still carry the scars of war, many did not make it, while others have since died.

We ran across an interesting story told to us by two residents we have known for many years, who met indirectly on April 1, 1945 and did not realize it until a few years ago.

Dr. Charles Thomas, local pharmacist, and Hugh Sanford who is now retired, a former county forester, and then service station operator in the county met in a very interesting way during the invasion.

Thomas was originally from Picayune and Sanford from Mantee, Miss.

About seven or eight years ago, while the two were sitting at Thomas' table drinking coffee which had been their custom for many years, they got to talking about their war experiences.

Their conversation led to the invasion of Okinawa, and how the Japanese Kamikaze pilots were very active during the invasion and American ships were making all types of maneuvers in addition to using smoke pots.

One remarked how their ship had been rammed by another during the confusion of the battle, and yes, Thomas was on one, and Sanford on the other.

Sanford was on Sub Chaser No. 1338 as a radio operator and Thomas was on the USS Afoundria with the 96th Infantry Division in an Army Field Hospital unit.

The sub chaser did not receive much damage, but Thomas said the sea could be seen through the large hole in the side of the ship he was on.

Sanford recalled some 110 ships were lost by the fleet in seven days during the invasion, as he had to keep a record of the number.

There are many Americans today who were not yet born during the invasion of Okinawa, but those who were there can tell you of the many horrors of war.

The peace we have today comes from their loyalty to our country during the time of a very serious need.

So, let us all remember them, as the Great Americans they were.

The deadline for filing federal and state income taxes is fast approaching.

Guess we all best get busy if we have not as yet, because April 15 will be here before we know it.

Have you noticed the many azaleas and dogwoods in bloom in recent weeks? The cold weather took its toll, yet many survived.

It is good to see the real signs of spring after such a harsh winter.

Taylor moves for cost effective state agencies

In an effort to control the continual growth of state government, 14 state senators are advocating requiring state agencies to justify their cost effectiveness in future budgets and putting a freeze on state employment.

A Senate Concurrent Resolution, co-authored by Senator Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis, was introduced recently to direct the Legislative Budget Office to prepare all fiscal year 1987 budget recommendations using zero-base budgeting principles.

"We are currently using an incremental budgeting system. State agencies being in their budgets with requests for increases over their current budgets. In other words, state government is being funded just on the basis of its existence and it is continually expanding," Taylor explained.

"What we want is for each agency to justify its existence on the basis of its cost effectiveness. This will allow us to prioritize budgets and put our funding where it needs to be. We feel this is the best approach to getting a hold on state government, because an across-the-board freeze on expenditures would hurt some agencies which really need additional funding," he said.

Some the principles of zero-based budgeting including:

- identification and description of each program activity.
- statement of objectives of each program activity and output.
- evaluation and ranking of program activities on the basis of a benefit versus cost analysis, and allocation of resources to program activities accordingly.

—description and evaluation of qualitative and quantitative effects on impact on funding the program activity at a level of 50 percent, 75 percent, 100 percent, and 125 percent of the funding level for the 1985-86 fiscal year.

—identification of effects of each such funding level on personnel requirements.

The resolution also would require the State Personnel Board to disapprove the employment of any person to fill a position in the state service during fiscal year 1985-86 unless that position is of a critical or emergency nature.

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to commend students of St. Stanislaus High School and Our Lady Academy for their participation in the volunteer program Project Do.

These students give up their free period to donate their time to different organizations in the community.

We were fortunate to have these students at our school for a short while and they made a big impression on the students here. I feel they have a lot to offer the community and they learn from the people they work with.

It is refreshing to see young people doing for others and giving of themselves. We are proud of their efforts and we want others to know of their work.

This program would not be possible without the guidance and commitment of Brother Canisius Schell.

Brother Canisius has headed this program since the beginning and has started many others like it over the past 30 years or so.

We salute Brother Schell and hope he will continue to make our community a better place, and our young people more generous and giving of themselves by making programs such as this one available for them.

Sincerely,

Port Arthur teachers, no experience, start at $18,900

March 26, 1985
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Ms

Dear Editor:

According to your Mar. 14 paper, 93 teachers were terminated in the Bay St. Louis School District. This represents a rather large talent pool which your school district will have to replace. Good luck.

Those teachers who are unemployed must be wondering what they can do. They might consider relocating to Texas. The Texas Legislature recently passed a school reform law, part of which mandates smaller teacher-student ratios.

In the Mar. 18 issue of the Port Arthur News, our local school superintendent announced that the Port Arthur School District anticipates adding 53 new teachers in the fall. The same situation occurs all over the state.

I am told that the Port Arthur Independent School District starts a brand-new teacher, bachelor's degree, no experience, at $18,900. Come on over, teachers. You will find that Texas can be a great place to live!

Sincerely,
Barbara Huval

Biloxi Branch Office

Q: I would like to become a successful consultant in my field of expertise. Do you have any suggestions?

A: Keep in mind several considerations before you decide to go into business as a consultant:

1. Your field or expertise should be specialized enough within a broad framework to encourage individuals and business firms to seek your help.

2. You should have the skills, experience and credentials in your chosen field to qualify as a paid consultant. In some instances, certain licenses or state certifications are required before you can establish a practice.

3. Will there be enough demand for your service to allow you to support yourself and a family over the long run? Is there a growth potential for your expertise?

Besides having the necessary skills and experience to offer to others, you should possess certain personal attributes, too. These include:

Empathy—Can you put yourself into your client's shoes? More important, would you want to get involved with your client's problems?

2. Inner Security—Can you work without the umbrella of an organization to use as home base? Do you need a boss to direct and motivate you?

3. Tact—When people find out you are a consultant, you are open prey for free advice. How will you handle such situations without offending potential clients?

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

A GENEVA JOURNAL

PART III

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Congressman Lott was one of eight members of the House of Representatives who observed the opening of the arms control talks between the United States and the Soviet Union in Geneva, Switzerland, from March 10-13. His reflections follow in this last of a two-part journal.)

March 12
Today at 11 a.m. our negotiators met for the first time in almost two years to discuss arms control.

The Congressional delegation, both House and Senate, met with them just before they left for the Russian Embassy Compound. Max Kempleman gave me the impression that for the first time in a long time we were well-positioned to really negotiate with the Soviet Union.

There were a few minutes of embarrassment as one of the House Members took time to go on a tirade against defense spending. Talk about bad timing!

Ambassador Lowitz of the U.S. Committee on Disarmament met with us next and discussed a number of areas of concern. This committee deals with such things as chemical and biological weapons, seabed minerals and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.

Many of the areas involve concern with the Third World countries. It apparently is damaging to Russia with the smaller nations that there is strong evidence that Russia is using chemical weapons in Afghanistan. Other than that, Russia generally sides with the Third World countries in an effort to cause problems for the U.S.

In the late afternoon we went to the Russian Embassy. I guess it is a very somber place under ordinary circumstances, but with the death of Chernenko, it was really eerie. We met with a couple of Embassy representatives, signed the condolence book and left quickly.

March 13
During the morning we attended the Internal Negotiating Working Groups on D.F.S. and Space Strategic Arms—and Intermediate Nuclear-range Forces. There was a lot of give and take on the statements to be presented at the opening of the next two negotiating sessions.

It was really interesting, with close analysis being given to changing even a single word. Each phrase or word could send a signal to the Russians.

The first session had gone pretty well with the Russians. However, only Viktor Karpov showed up for the meeting instead of the expected three. Perhaps it was because of the Chernenko funeral.

Basic agreements were reached. The meetings would be joint through March 19 and then break into groups of three on March 21.

As we left Geneva to return to the United States, the House of Representatives delegation made this statement to the press:

It is our intention to return to the United States and express to our colleagues in the House the deep sense of appreciation our negotiators have for our desire to see these talks brought to a successful conclusion.

We will return with no false hopes or expectations for a speedy conclusion to these negotiations. The issues are highly complex and the differences between our two nations are many.

But the willingness of both sides to sit down at the conference table and talk in earnest about arms reduction is a positive first step toward stabilizing the forces of conflict and reducing the size and scope of our respective nuclear arsenals.

From the Office of the Governor

FORE EDUCATION

During the recent negotiations over teacher pay raises in the Legislature, much debate has occurred regarding education in Mississippi. No matter what anyone believes is the best answer to the teacher salary dispute, I believe we all can agree on one thing—that education is and shall remain a top priority for Mississippi government.

In our Executive Budget recommendations to the Legislature, I dedicated 60 percent of our state money to education programs—elementary, secondary, junior colleges and higher education.

This commitment reflects our continued belief that education should be a top priority for this state, coupled with economic development.

In my message to the Legislature, I recommended for the second year the establishment of a special education trust fund. This trust fund has been approved by the House and Senate this year, and I believe it will help us make great strides in funding our education priorities. It will protect money earmarked for education and prevent their being spent for other purposes.

I want to re-emphasize my full commitment to the Education Reform Act of 1982. Some efforts have been successful this year to dismantle portions of the act. Next year, we are looking at funding $40 million for the statewide kindergarten program. And I intend to do whatever I can to insure that this program continues on schedule.

My strong belief in the need for a good education system is coupled with an equally strong belief that the education system should be a quality system. The programs that are coming on line as mandated in the Education Reform Act will help achieve that quality, as will proposals to enact some type of education personnel appraisal system.

In a recently published report, State Superintendent of Education Richard Boyd indicated that the Reform Act implementation is on target, by and large. While some problems have been encountered in some of the programs, the staff of the Education Department is working and studying options for solutions to these problems.

I am very hopeful about the future of quality education in Mississippi for several reasons.

First, the Education Reform Act is proceeding well. Secondly, Dr. Boyd has brought a wide range of expertise to the superintendent's office and has already earned a reputation as a respected advocate for quality schools.

Finally, the new State Board of Education has made a substantial commitment of time and effort on behalf of the public school children of this state, and I look forward to their continued service.

Introducing Hancock Bank's SEP Plan:

Employers - Shelter up to $30,000 a year for retirement in an IRA.

Now you can give yourself and your employees up to $30,000 a year toward retirement with our easy-to-run Simplified Employee Pension Plan.

SEP accounts are as easy as IRAs. They reduce your personal taxes. While giving you more for retirement than a regular IRA.

They cut your company's tax burden, too. Without the paperwork and expense of other pension plans.

They're available to corporations, partnerships, and self-employed persons. And it's the most flexible pension plan around.

You're not locked in to a set level of contributions. Your company can put in different amounts each year. Up to $30,000 or 15% of an employee's wages (whichever is less). You can even skip years if you want.

Our special Employer Planning Kit will show you how you and your company can benefit from a Hancock Bank SEP Plan.

Call or write Charles Eastland at Hancock Bank for your free copy. But hurry. The deadline for cutting '84 taxes is April 15th.

Stanislaus Rocks take 13-1 victory over OLV

St. Stanislaus used the strong one-hit pitching of Matt Rosetti to rout Our Lady of Victories 13-1 in a varsity baseball contest Friday afternoon at the Rockachaw diamond.

Donald Pitalo and David Pitalo led off the bottom of the first inning for St. Stanislaus with back-to-back triples, and the Rocks never looked back in collecting 11 hits. The contest was called after six innings by the 12-run rule.

David Pitalo's triple scored Donald Pitalo from third base, but David Pitalo was left stranded at third when Mike Weems grounded out to first baseman Chris Collins, Phil Wittmann struck out, and Louis Schruoff grounded out to the shortstop.

OLV fought back to tie the game in the top of the second inning when, with two outs, Tony Garriga walked, and Mike Woods followed with a single.

Shawn Farni's fielders choice forced Woods out at second base, advancing Garriga to third base. Tony Crabtree's grounder to Pitalo scored Garriga and Matt Rosetti got Chris Collins to pop up to Louis Schruoff at third base to end the inning. SSC could not mount an attack in the second inning as the score stood knotted at 1-1.

The Rocks went to work in the bottom of the third when Donald Pitalo walked, and David Pitalo was safe on an error by the third baseman Doug Fridge. Mike Weems then walked to load the bases.

Phil Wittmann then struck out, and with one out, Louis Schruoff hit a double scoring David Pitalo and courtesy runner Jay Artigues. YaSin Shabazz then hit a shot to center field which was nicely handled by centerfielder Shawn Farni. At the end of three innings the Rocks led OLV 3-1.

OLV was held hitless and scoreless in the last four innings by the fine pitching of Rosetti. In the third and fourth innings, Rosetti faced only four batters each, and in the fifth and sixth innings Rosetti retired the OLV batters in order.

SSC collected eight of their eleven hits in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings off of OLV pitcher Court Farni. Matt Rosetti led off the bottom of the fourth inning with a walk. Jake Welsh then singled, advancing courtesy runner Jay Artigues to third base. Mark Logan followed with a double over the left-fielder's head scoring Artigues, and Welsh was out trying to take third base.

Donald Pitalo then struck out, and David Pitalo was safe on a fielders choice. Mike Weems struck out to end the fourth inning after the Rocks picked up two more runs to lead 5-1.

In the bottom of the fifth inning, St. Stanislaus picked up another run when Phil Wittmann led off with a single, and advanced to second base on a passed ball.

Louis Schruoff flied out to the shortstop for the first out and YaSin Shabazz grounded to the shortstop for the second out. Matt Rosetti's single up the middle scored Wittmann and courtesy runner Jay Artigues came in to run for pitcher Rosetti.

Artigues was thrown out attempting to steal second for the final out of the fifth inning. The Rocks increased their lead over OLV to 6-1.

After OLV was retired in order in the top of the sixth inning, the Rocks exploded for a seven-run sixth inning. Jake Welsh led off with a single, and Mark Logan's sharply hit grounder to OLV shortstop Crabtree could not be handled.

Donald Pitalo was hit by a pitch to load the bases. David Pitalo then struck out, and Mike Weems followed with a two RBI single to right center field. Phil Wittmann stroked his second hit of the game over second base to score Donald Pitalo and Jay Artigues.

Louis Schruoff followed with a single to score Wittmann as the Rocks led 11-1 with only one out. YaSin Shabazz hit a hard grounder between the third baseman and shortstop, and Matt Rosetti then walked.

Welsh's single scored both Shabazz and pinch runner Rocky Rhodes to make the score 13-1. Umpire Bill Strickland then called the game at that point because of the 12-run rule with one out in the sixth. Prior to the St. Stanislaus game, Our Lady of Victories had won five of their last six games, beating Long Beach, Mercy Cross, East Central, and Moss Point.

After the game, SSC coaches Mike Gemelli and Rod Herring had praise for Matt Rosetti's fine performance on the mound.

"This was the second complete game that Matt has thrown for us in the past week. He kept the ball down low and moved his pitches around, making the OLV batters beat the ball into the dirt," Coach Herring stated.

"I was extremely pleased with our defensive play," remarked Gemelli. "We played very aggressive baseball, we ran the bases well and all nine of our starters got a hit."

"When we play together as a team and encourage each other, there is no limit to what success we can enjoy this year," he added.

St. Stanislaus is now 6-3, and travels to St. John for varsity and junior varsity games Monday at 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Wednesday, the Rocks host Pope John Paul from Slidell for a varsity game beginning at 3:30 p.m. And Thursday, the Rocks travel to Biloxi to play Mercy Cross with a JV game beginning at 4 p.m. followed by a varsity contest at 6 p.m.

THE INCORRUPTIBLE CROWN

Paul wrote, "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible." (I Corinthians 9:24-25)

The Romans were involved very much in athletics. Paul used their association with athletics to teach spiritual truths.

One cannot win the race unless he enters the race.

Many who have the ability to train and win will not enter the athletic race. There are many who can enter the spiritual race and win but do not do so.

Many excuses are made for failing to obey the gospel of Christ. Some of the excuses are ignorance, bad people in church, afraid they can not live the Christian life, etc.

The underlying reasons are a lack of faith in God and his promises and a lack of belief in a devil's hell which burns with fire and brimstone.

Obedience to the first principles of the gospel is essential to enter in the spiritual race. The faith necessary is obtained from a study of God's revelation to man. (Romans 10:17)

Repentance must come from within the individual prompted by his faith and realization of guilt. (II Corinthians 7:9-10)

Faith causes one to announce to his fellow man his faith in Christ. This is called confession. (Romans 10:10)

Baptism is the final act which puts us into Christ. (Romans 6:3-4; Galatians 3:26-27)

Christ shed his blood in his death and we are baptized into his death. The Lord adds the saved to the church. (Acts 2:47)

Everyone, who enters the race, can receive the prize.

Those in the race are not in competition with each other. Each participant must follow the rules.

Paul said, "...If a man also strive for the masteries yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully." (II Timothy 2:5)

Many religious people are striving, but not lawfully.

It is not he who brings but he who finishes that will be crowned. Jesus said, "...be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." (Revelation 2:10)

Those who strive must be temperate in all things.

A temperate person is one who is self-restrained. It is one of the fruits of the spirit. (Galatians 5:23)

The American Standard Version translates it "Self-control."

Paul speaks of this truth when he said, "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind; that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." (Romans 12:1-2)

The prize is an incorruptible crown.

Paul wrote Timothy from a Roman Cell, "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course; I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day; and not be me only, but unto them also that love his appearing." (II Timothy 2:6-8)

Paul called it an incorruptible crown. (I Corinthians 9:25)

If you have not entered the spiritual race, please do it now!

Failure to do so means eternal ruin!

RETAIL CONDOMINIUMS

Q: Condominiums have become a popular alternative for residential users. Are there any restrictions on using a condominium project for commercial retail users? D.K., Fort Gibson

A: The condominium concept, which as you noted began with apartment buildings for residential users, gradually spread to other forms of housing, then to medical and office buildings, and to industrial properties.

The common denominator in all of these different land uses has been the desire of the occupants to own rather than rent space, generally for a combination of tax investment and personal uses.

One area in which the condominium concept has been slow to catch on has been retailing.

Historically, landlords have felt no great pressure to sell retail space since retail rents have not been controlled and thus have kept pace with inflation and changes in property values.

Likewise, retailers, particularly those located in multitenant buildings, have seen no significant benefits in buying space.

Tax savings are usually not available since business expenses are deductible whether the premises are leased or owned.

In addition, a retailer's capital is usually better invested in inventory than in real estate.

However, in those geographic areas of the country where commercial rents are rising sharply, the situation is changing.

Landlords, somewhat fearful of the possibility of commercial rent control, are more willing to sell, while tenants now have a greater incentive to control their costs.

The result has been that in some cities you find a project with condominium space for retailers on the first floor or two and condominium space for residential users on the remaining levels.

On a square foot basis the cost of purchasing the retail space is high relative to the residential space, but some retailers feel that ownership of desirable retail space in a quality neighborhood is likely to prove a worthwhile investment.

For answer to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 298, Universal City, Miss. 39677.

ty citizens to broaden the recreational-base and further utilize existing facilities throughout the county on a year-round basis is needed. What would be the function of this central facility?

The centrally located recreational facility would function as the focal point and directional arm of the county-wide recreational program, Smith said.

The HCYCC would be governed by a Board of Directors, but, would actually be administered to by the Commission members and would have a non-profit corporation status and a tax exempt number, she added.

The proposed, centrally located community facility would be large enough to include an all purpose gymnasium that would accommodate youth programs, drama groups, arts and crafts activities, sporting events and any other recreational activities developed by the commission.

The proposed facility could include a swimming pool, ballfields and other outdoor recreational fields that would be self sustaining through funds raised by the use of the facilities.

"The commission is appealing to the interested county and community residents to assist us in making this new recreational concept a reality in Hancock County," Smith said.

The public is invited to the next commission meeting scheduled for Tuesday, April 23 at 7 p.m. at the endeavor may call Patrol Officer Judith Childs at the Bay St. Louis Police Department at 467-9221.

Hancock County Library.

State Republicans to honor Congressman Franklin Webb

The annual fundraising dinner of the Mississippi Republican Party, "Mississippi Honors Webb Franklin," will be held April 12 in Jackson.

"It is quite an honor to be the special guest for such an occasion," Franklin, the Republican congressman from the Second District, said. "I want to thank the party for selecting me."

The dinner is scheduled for 6 p.m. at the Ramada Inn Coliseum in Jackson.

Senator Thad Cochran and Congressman Trent Lott will serve as honorary chairmen of the event which will also feature several of Franklin's congressional colleagues as special guests.

In addition, all of the Republican Party's municipal candidates in attendance, will be given special recognition.

"This dinner will bring together very important parts of our total effort as a party," State Chairman Eddie Spivey said.

"First, we pay tribute to Congressman Webb Franklin, who's brought fresh new ability and leadership to the Mississippi Republican Party."

"Secondly, the dinner will coincide with the filing deadline for the 1985 municipal elections, where some of our hardest work is being done this year. And, or course, the dinner also brings all Mississippi's Republicans together to meet and visit each other," she added.

Franklin, a Greenwood native, graduated from Mississippi State University and the University of Mississippi Law School.

He served as district attorney and Circuit Court judge before winning election to Congress in 1982.

He was reelected in 1984.

Tickets for the dinner are available through the state party headquarters in Jackson.

Chevis retains academy status

Dr. Sidney A. Chevis of Bay St. Louis has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The academy was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

Echo, Hancock County Youth Court, Chapman Business Service, Haas and Haas and the Biloxi Sun-Herald Bay Bureau.

Other trials scheduled include: Andrew Genna and Nelson Chastain, burglary; Larry Johnson, sale of a controlled substance; and Kathy Lee Lott, uttering forgery.

Arraignments are set for Gail McNeely, prescription forgery; and Wayne Lewis, sale of a controlled substance.

Auctions provide incentive for new antique business

BY DENA BISNETTE

The success of two auctions in Hancock County has resulted in the establishment of a new antique business west of Waveland.

Plantation Country Antiques Gallery, located across from Blossman Gas on U.S.-90, opens Tuesday.

The new store will be operated as a partnership between a Bay St. Louis couple, Mr. and Mrs. Al Clack, and an English antique dealer, Nicholas Parsonson of Cornwall, England.

Parsonson, who is in Bay St. Louis this week to help with preparations for the opening, said the idea of establishing a store in Bay St. Louis originated about a year ago when he and his partner, Martin Ward, worked with Al Clack to organize an auction at the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

At that time, Parsonson planned to hold about five auctions per year in Bay St. Louis.

"The response we got to the two auctions we had was very good, and so was the reaction we got from dealers," he said. "We sold most of the furniture we brought over and got a lot of requests for specific items."

Most of the furniture at the auction consisted of English country-style pine antique dressers, chests and chairs, Parsonson said he has found that type of furniture so popular that he will continue shipping it to Bay St. Louis, although the new store will also provide other items.

"We do plan to move into more sophisticated areas, partially because we received a number of requests for those items," he commented.

In addition, Parsonson said Plantation Country Antiques Gallery will be able to provide requested items within six to eight weeks after the request is received.

Parsonson will spend much of his time in England buying antiques from estates and private homes, but says he plans to visit Bay St. Louis "quite frequently."

"We could probably sell more items or sell more regularly in other parts of the United States, but the response we've received in the South has been marvelous and there is a tremendous warmth about the people here," he explained.

He also commented that he found a favorable climate for business here, since most of the other antique stores on the Gulf Coast deal in early American styles.

"Most of the dealers here have superb furniture but don't carry any English goods, so we sort of complement each other," Parsonson explained.

As he did for the auctions in Bay St. Louis, Parsonson will authenticate and date each piece shipped to Plantation Country Antiques Gallery. Customers may obtain certificates of authentication with each purchase.

Parsonson is a member of the London and Provincial Antique Dealers Association and several other organizations whose members are involved in authenticating antique furniture.

Consumer Update

from Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Shopping with coupons—

The Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Maryland notes that consumers usually save money with coupons only if they insist on buying name-brand products, which are typically 10-20 percent more expensive than house brands of comparable quality. Therefore, always compare coupon discounts and sales.

Income changes at retirement

Married couples had highest levels of pre-retirement income, but incurred greatest decrease in income upon entering benefits rolls. They actually lost 1/3 of pre-retirement income.

Social security and other pension income accounted for 60 percent of total income and asset income and earnings accounted for 20 percent for married couples. These figures are the results of a 10-year longitudinal study of people entering retirement in the 1970s.

Seay—Ladner

St. Paul Catholic Church in Pass Christian was the setting for the March 9 candlelight wedding of Denise Darcell Ladner and Melvin Russell Seay. The Rev. Msgr. James McGough officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Everett J. Ladner of Pass Christian. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert R. Seay of Lakeshore.

Musical selections were presented by Tom Bourdin, organist, and Lorin Lewis, soloist.

Decorating the church were arrangements of lavender and white gladioli, mums and peonies with doves. Aisle candelabra were decorated with satin bows, doves and greenery. A brass bridal arch was adorned with greenery and doves.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal bouffant gown of white crystalline organza over bridal satin, fashioned with a high neckline, fitted sleeves and bodice, all elaborately trimmed in silk venise lace and seed pearls. The full bouffant skirt featured a cathedral length train edged in tiers of organza ruffles and decorated with appliques of hand-clipped Italian lace.

A wreath of silk flowers and seed pearls held a bridal veil of illusion dotted with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of white silk roses, lily-of-the-valley, baby's breath and English ivy, centered with three lavender throated white orchids.

Lisa Kiper of Wisner, La., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Maid of honor was Jeannie Seay of Lakeshore, sister of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Sharon Newman of Long Beach, Melissa

Blereau of Morgan City, La. and Kim McGill and Lynne Garriga of Pass Christian, all cousins of the bride.

They carried candle arrangements of lavender silk roses, tiger lilies, forget-me-nots and baby's breath.

Stephanie Garriga of Pass Christian and Amanda Parker of Gulfport, cousins of the bride, were flower girls.

Buford M. Perry of Lakeshore, cousin of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Erick Skinner and Steve Klein, both of Bay St. Louis; Randy Ingersoll, cousin of the groom, and Philip Seay and Raymond Seay, brothers of the groom, all of Lakeshore.

Ushers were Billy Ray Osbourne of Lakeshore, L.J. Davis of Bay St. Louis, and Wilson Niolet and Bennie Ladner, both of Pass Christian.

Ring bearers were Jeffrey McGill of Pass Christian, cousin of the bride, and Chad Davis of Bay St. Louis, nephew of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony at St. Paul's gymnasium.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CHRISTOPHER WINTERS

Winters—Kingston

Lisa Antoinette Kingston and Robert Christopher Winters were married March 12 in a 5:30 p.m. ceremony in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis. The Rev. Henry McInerney officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kingston of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Winters of Kingsburg, Calif.

Nuptial music was provided by organist Mrs. John McKenna.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of deep ivory all-over lace on English net, lined with satin, with fitted bodice adorned with schiffli and venise laces, stand-up collar of schiffli lace and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Panels of schiffli lace drifted down the gently flared skirt, which was bordered with a self-ruffle and featured a sweep train. A sash of peach and ivory satin defined the natural waistline.

She wore a headpiece of matching lace adorned with seed pearls, which held a circular veil of illusion, also bordered with lace.

She carried a cascade of ivory tiger lilies and sweetheart roses interspersed with seed pearls, butterflies and satin picot ribbon.

Jeanne Boudreaux of Pass Christian was maid of honor.

Deborah Jordan of Saucier, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore tea length dresses of ivory lace over coral taffeta with scalloped edge lace overlay on the bodice, over a dropped waistline and dirndl skirt. The bodice featured a square neckline with three-quarter length sleeves of lace.

They carried long stemmed white roses with seed pearls and picot streamers.

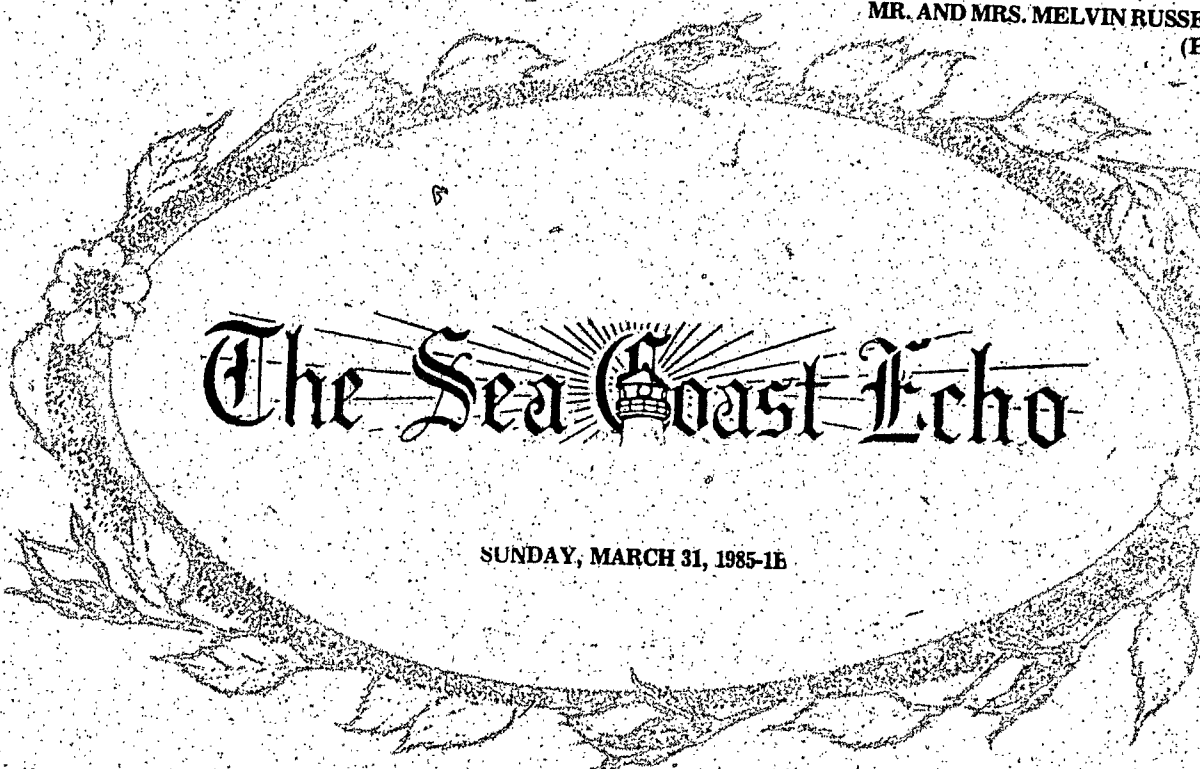

Miss Jenny Jordan of Saucier, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Jesse Kingston of Georgia, nephew of the bride.

Dale Richie of Washington, D.C. was best man. Steve Sleeper of California was groomsmen.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Bay St. Louis. Decorations included coral carnation arrangements and coral and white bells and streamers.

Mrs. Jeanne Garcia assisted at the reception.

The couple will reside in Biloxi.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Clermont Harbor Handcrafters

The Clermont Harbor Handcrafters Club met March 7 in the Civic Room at Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis.

Co-hostesses for the meeting were Thelma Dickson, Shirley Cox and Wanda Berthelot.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Lou Hero. A prayer was read by Wanda Berthelot. The Pledge of Allegiance was given.

Eva Shea showed a lap robe she had pieced in blocks of knit fabrics. It will be presented to the Dixie White House Nursing Home at a later date along with other handmade lap robes completed by other members of the club.

Crocheted shamrock lapel pins were presented as favors to each of the 15 members in attendance. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting. The next meeting will be a white elephant sale for the members at the Civic Room on April 4.

Crafty Homemakers

The Crafty Homemakers Extension Club met March 25 at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Fayard.

Mrs. Mary Blackstock, president, opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance. Instead of the usual devotional, Mrs. Fayard gave a reading on Friendship in the form of verse which was delightful to the ear and very heartwarming.

Mrs. Beatrice Ladner spoke to the ladies on the recent Tri-County Clothing program which was held at the Waveland Library.

There was a discussion on the International Taster's Tea to be presented April 12 at the fairgrounds 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The price of admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. A ticket entitles one to taste the food of the represented countries. There will be judging of handiwork submitted by the ladies of the various Extension Clubs, and there will be entrance prizes awarded.

Mrs. Minnie Geiger gave the Focus, which was on evaluating clothes for quality. This was most enlightening, not only for ladies who make their own clothes, but also for those who buy their clothes.

Mrs. Helen Pahlman spoke on Woodville, which is located in the southwest corner of Mississippi. It is one of the oldest settlements and is noted for many firsts. Jefferson Davis grew from childhood to young manhood in Woodville.

Learning Ladies

The regular monthly meeting of Learning Ladies was held March 19 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Russell.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and the club creed was read in unison. Twelve members were present.

Plans were made for the International Tasters Tea to be held April 12 at the County Grounds.

The theme will be India Costumes. Foods and artifacts from India will be displayed.

A new member, Mrs. Wanda Berthelot, was added to the club membership.

Newly elected committee chairpersons are Ruth Russell, secretary-treasurer and Ella Shaw, program director.

Riverview Homemakers

Riverview Homemakers Club met March 18 at the home of Mrs. Cheryl Reynolds. The program on estate planning was presented by local attorney Steven Benvenuti. Fourteen members and one guest attended.

Anyone wishing to organize a club or join any of the Homemakers Extension Clubs may call Mrs. Darlene Underwood, at the Extension Center, 467-5456, or stop by the center at 725-A Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Blue Jeans Garden Club

The March meeting of the Blue Jeans Garden Club was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J.C. Goodloe, Clermont Harbor.

After leading members in an opening prayer, Mrs. A.M. Thomas, president, introduced Mrs. Dorothy Benney, new member, who was welcomed by the group.

Among the many topics discussed were the club's "members only" plant sale in April, the Birthday Luncheon and Hat Show in May, and the club's fund-raising afternoon of games in June.

Due to the length of the business meeting Mrs. Ruth Russell, program chairlady, was unable to present her program on "Garden Design." Mrs. Eva Shea and Mrs. Wanda Berthelot had interesting talks on "Garden Design" and "Garden Design."

Several live Easter basket garden arrangements were designed by the president.

Flats and arrangements were made for the club's garden tour in May. Various categories were presented by Mrs. Ruth Russell, Mrs. A.M. Thomas, Mrs. Eva Shea and Mrs. Wanda Berthelot. The tour will be held on May 12.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Russell and Mrs. A.M. Thomas.

The next meeting will be held on April 12 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Russell.

Saxton—Patterson

The engagement and approaching marriage of Edna Pearl Saxton and J. Gary Patterson Sr. of Pass Christian is announced. Vows will be exchanged on Saturday, Apr. 13 in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Luke of Preston, Ms. She was graduated from Mississippi State University with special distinction and received a bachelor of science degree in business education. She is employed in the accounting department of Allen Beverages Inc. in Gulfport.

The prospective bridegroom was associated with and helped to organize Cub Scout Pack 340 of Andrew Jackson Council. After retiring to Pass Christian, Mr. Patterson was on the advisory board of the Rainbow Girls Assembly No. 10, Gulfport. He is a Mason and Shriner with membership in the Jerusalem Temple, New Orleans, La.

He was formerly a fashion photographer in Hollywood, Calif., before moving to New Orleans. He was society photographer in New Orleans, and was owner of Patterson Studios for many years prior to his retirement.

The couple will reside in Pass Christian.

Pendergraft—Hallowich

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbon Wayne Pendergraft of San Antonio, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gay Kathleen Pendergraft, to James Andrew Hallowich Jr., son of Mrs. Beverly M. Hallowich and James A. Hallowich Sr., all of San Antonio.

The wedding will be solemnized on June 8, 1985 at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church in San Antonio.

Miss Pendergraft, whose mother is the former Gwen Heltzmann of Bay St. Louis, was graduated from Thomas Clark High School and Dunn Dental School. She is employed as a dental assistant at the University of Texas Dental School.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toxie Hall of Ansley and the late Theodore A. Heltzmann of Bay St. Louis and Algiers, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Raymond Pendergraft of Tullahoma, Tenn. Her maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jules La France of Ansley.

Mr. Hallowich is a graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School and

JAMES HALLOWICH AND GAY PENDERGRAFT

DOUBLE CELEBRATION— Tiffany and Robert Hoda, children of Thomas and Denise Hoda, celebrated their fourth and first birthdays, respectively, on March 2 in the home of their parents. Cabbage Patch and Teddy Bear were themes used.

ETV Brief

ETV STEREO

With the presence of Public Radio in Mississippi on the FM dial in the state, a new dimension is added to many programs that are broadcast on Mississippi ETV: stereo.

Many music programs are "simulcast," that is, they are simultaneously broadcast on Mississippi ETV and Public Radio in Mississippi. By turning down the volume on the TV set and turning up the volume on the radio, many programs, such as "Austin City Limits" and "Live from the Met," can be viewed on ETV and heard in stereo on PRM.

Among the simulcast programs on ETV and PRM are "Austin City Limits," "Live from the Met," some "Great Performances" programs, "The Complete Gilbert and Sullivan," "Live from Lincoln Center" and local programs from time to time. Viewers should consult their PRM and ETV guides each month for simulcast details.

ETV and PRM can be turned on the following channels: Biloxi, channel 19 and 90.3 FM; Booneville, channel 12 and 89.5 FM; Bude, channel 17 and 88.9 FM; Greenwood, channel 23 and 90.0 FM; Jackson, channel 25 and 91.3 FM; Meridian, channel 14 and 88.1 FM; Mississippi State, channel 2 and 89.9 FM; and Oxford-University, channel 18 and 90.3 FM.

The Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council held its annual Spring Fashion Revue March 15 at the Extension Office. The judge for the event was Judy Edwards, Stone County Extension Home Economist. Alice Hondzinski was in charge of the revue.

Winners in their categories were:

Sportswear, casual—Minnie Geiger from the Crafty Club wore white pants and a printed blouse.

Suits—Alice Green of the Riverview Club won for her blue ultra suede two-piece suit, and Alice Hondzinski from the Learning Ladies wore a cream jacket over a velvet striped dress.

Dressy dress—From the Riverview Club, Dot Hammon wore a grey striped print dress and Beatrice Ladner of the Crafty Club was attired in a striped pink dress.

Casual dress—Toschi Barlow from the Riverview Club wore a light blue dress, and Alice Hondzinski from the Learning Ladies Club wore a brown and black print dress.

Children's wear—Beatrice Ladner of the Crafty Club made for her granddaughter, Gretchen, a white formal dress with a pink sash, and in sportswear, Gretchen wore pink shorts with a matching blouse.

The winners from Hancock County are eligible to go to the district meeting on April 2 for further competition.

CARROTS

VERSATILE VEGETABLE

A carrot a day gives you vitamin A. Carrots are so common we often overlook their value, yet they are one of the most popular and economical fresh vegetables in the leafy green and yellow food group.

Early colonists introduced carrots to American soil. In time, nutritionists began to encourage people to eat more carrots. Because of their efforts and those of scientists who improved the varieties, carrots today rank as a prominent market vegetable. Most of the carrots we eat are fresh but canned, frozen, and carrots combined with other foods are also available.

The deep orange color in carrots indicates their nutritional value. Their bountiful supply of a pigment called carotene is changed by our bodies into vitamin A. This vitamin is essential for healthy skin and night vision.

A serving of cooked carrots is more concentrated and so gives more vitamin A than an equal serving of raw carrots. A one-half cup serving of either raw or cooked carrots supplies more than the amount of vitamin A recommended for the daily diet of a 25-year-old man. Few foods surpass carrots in providing good quantities of vitamin A economically.

Carrots are a convenience food. Fresh carrots, a standby among the yellow vegetables, appear on produce counters year round while other vegetables come and go with the seasons. Canned and frozen carrots are also available throughout the year.

Most carrots arriving at the market from distant shipping areas during the winter and the spring are packaged in one-pound transparent film bags. About the only carrots now marketed with their leafy tops are those grown in nearby areas.

There are two crops of carrots, early and late. Early crops are usually harvested before reaching full maturity. The late crop of mature carrots is usually stored for sale during the winter. These carrots may be deeper in color, more pronounced in flavor, and coarser in texture than those of the early crop.

Carrots are usually washed before sale although sometimes soil adheres to them. The soil does not harm but it may mar their appearance.

When choosing fresh carrots from your market basket, look for ones which are firm, crisp and fresh, smooth and clean, and have no surface blemishes.

Color is one of the keys to choosing the best of a bunch of carrots on the market shelf. Since the orange color is a measure of their carotene, or vitamin A content of carrots, carrots of brighter color probably furnish more vitamin A than those that are faded. However, color is not a true indicator of sweetness and flavor. Larger, more mature carrots may be brighter orange than smaller ones but the larger ones will not be as tender. Larger carrots may be a good choice for stews and pot roasts. You may prefer young tender carrots, which are smaller and lighter, for salads and relish trays.

Carrot color is affected by the location of the growing area, the variety, storage conditions, age of the root and other environmental factors. You can find many varieties of carrots at local markets. Shorter carrots with blunt ends may be as tender as long, slender varieties. Your intended use and their price may influence your choice.

Shun carrots that are:

- Oversized—a frequent sign of hard, pithy core;
- Deep green at the shoulders—an indicator of bitter flavor;
- Tops with a thick mass of leafy stems—a clue to a large tough core;
- Forked, gnarled or rough—creating preparation wastes; or

• Wilted and soft—marks of poor flavor and appearance.

A pound of prepackaged carrots usually yields 2½ cups of diced or shredded carrots and provides five servings on one-half cup each.

Fresh carrots keep well for ten days or more if you store them in a moistureproof wrapper or in a covered container in a refrigerator. If you purchase carrots with tops, cut off the tops before storing. The tops take up storage space and draw moisture from the roots causing them to wilt. You may wash carrots before putting them away if you use them within one or two days.

Brushing or scraping carrots has little effect on their keeping quality if you store them for only a short period of time in the refrigerator. For longer storage, brushed or scraped carrots may shrivel or discolor more readily than those stored with their natural protective covering.

Carrots are a vegetable of all trade. Let the color of fresh, young carrots add appeal to any meal at home. These golden vegetables are truly easy to prepare whether simply washed, sliced and served raw or cooked alone or in combination with meats, fruits and other vegetables.

Wildlife society plans Spring meeting Tuesday

The Wildlife Rehabilitation and Nature Preservation Society will conduct its Spring 1985 general membership meeting Tuesday, 7 p.m. at Marine Education Center Library, Point Cadet, Biloxi.

Agenda will include a planned society-sponsored wildlife and nature photography contest; proposed wildlife rehabilitation center on Woodland Way, Pass Christian; and planned society-sponsored wildlife rehabilitation course.

The public is invited to the meeting, especially those interested in helping injured and orphaned wildlife, according to Dianne Hunt of Pass Christian, society coordinator. For information call Hunt, 452-2034.

New members introduced by Waveland Seniors Club

Members of Boy Scout Troop 217 are accepting pledges for their Walk-a-Thon on Saturday, Apr. 6 to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy drive.

The 10-mile walk will begin at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street in Bay St. Louis, proceed to TG&Y on US-90 in Waveland, then down Waveland Avenue to Beach Boulevard and back to Main Street. Refreshments will be provided by Domino's Pizza at the end of the walk.

Troop sponsors are Our Lady of the Gulf Parish and Pere le Duc Council No. 1522, Knights of Columbus.

National Ad Correction

Due to an error beyond our control, our 8-page tabloid insert dated Sunday, March 31 thru Saturday, April 6, 1985, the price of Tropicana Gold 'n' Pure orange juice was incorrect. The incorrect price read "Tropicana 100% pure Gold 'n' Pure orange juice, chilled, 1/2 gallon carton $1.00." It should have read "Tropicana 100% pure Gold 'n' Pure orange juice, chilled, 1/2 gallon carton $1.79." We regret any inconvenience that this has caused to our loyal customers.

ASCS Report

Milk Diversion Program Enters Final Month

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's milk diversion program entered its 15th and final month on March 1, 1985. The voluntary program offered dairy producers an incentive payment of $10 per hundredweight for reducing their commercial milk sales from 5 to 30 percent between Jan. 1, 1984 and March 31, 1985.

"Diversion payments were made to eligible milk producers after each quarter of the contract period," said Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office.

For the final payment, program participants are required to provide acceptable evidence of total milk marketings for the entire contract period, and certify that their marketing reductions were not offset by expansion of production in other facilities in which they had an interest.

In this, the final month of the program, Gennin said contracted dairy producers should make sure that they do not market more milk than is allowed by their contract. To qualify for diversion payments, a producer must limit milk marketings on a contracted unit to the difference between the established base for the unit and the contracted reduction level for the unit.

In addition, if a producer has an interest in an uncontracted unit, the milk marketings on the uncontracted unit are also limited by milk marketings on the uncontracted unit during the period Dec. 1, 1982 and Nov. 30, 1983.

Milk is considered marketed when it is disposed of in raw or processed form, by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter or exchange or by gift.

The ASCS official said dairy producers may apply for their final incentive payment in April after they receive their final sales receipts for all milk marketed in March, 1985.

COMPREHENSIVE[®] Tax Talk

Question: Did You Know That You Can Shift Taxable Income Among Family Members?

Answer: Substantial tax savings can be achieved by transferring income-producing properties to family members who are in lower tax brackets. Tax advisors frequently recommend to parents that they transfer property in trust for the benefit of their children so that the income earned can be used to pay for such costs as college tuition. Since the trust or beneficiary may be taxed at the lowest rate of tax as opposed to the parent's higher tax rates, overall family tax savings can be realized.

A common device for making the transfer is a "short-term trust," otherwise known as a "Clifford Trust." Under a short-term trust, property is transferred into a trust for a period of more than 10 years for the benefit of your children. Typically the term is 10 years and 1 day. During this period, the income earned is taxed to the trust of your children. After the expiration of the period, the trust property is returned to you but all income earned during the 10-year period is distributed to your children.

The tax laws require the Clifford Trust to have a term over ten years before you can get your property back or the income earned will be taxed to you. A common method of avoiding this extended term was the interest-free demand loan. However, the Tax Reform Act of 1984 and a recent Supreme Court decision have taken all advantages from this device.

The income earned from a trust with a shorter term will not be taxed to you if the trust assets are never returned to you, according to the Comprehensive nationwide network of accountants serving business. For example, income-producing assets might be placed in trust for, say, five years. During this period the income of the trust can be used for the benefit of your children. After the five years are over, the balance of the property can be given to charity, your spouse, or some other person.

Before considering these short-term trusts, various other considerations must be reviewed, including the gift tax consequences, your support obligations under state law and your personal ability to part with the assets placed in trust.

Where appropriate, short-term trusts are important and beneficial devices in saving overall family income taxes.

Is an IRA right for you?

As April 15th gets closer, more and more people are talking about Individual Retirement Accounts. The tax break you get—the retirement income you can count on.

So, we'd like to help you decide if an IRA's right for you, by answering some of the most frequently asked questions about IRAs.

"Can I still get a break on '84 taxes?"

Yes. You've got until April 15th to open an IRA and apply the tax savings to your 1984 return.

But don't wait past April 15th. Even if the IRS gives you an extension for your return. That's a firm deadline this year.

"Don't you need $2,000?"

If you work, you can start an IRA at Hancock Bank with as little as $5.00. Then, just put in what you want, when you want.

You don't have to contribute every month, or even every year. But your money keeps on working for you, earning interest.

The money you put in is not taxable until you take it out. Even the interest is sheltered.

"How much can I put away?"

If you're employed, you can put up to $2,000 in your IRA. $2,000 each for working couples. Or, a $2,250 combined total for a couple if only one of you is employed.

If you deposit at least $2,000, you're eligible for your choice of 18-month or 30-month fixed-interest rates. Amounts less than $2,000 earn money-market rates that change monthly. When your IRA builds up to $2,000, we'll be happy to lock in a fixed rate for you. It's usually higher.

"Do you have to itemize?"

No. You can use a regular 1040 tax form and still get credit for your IRA contribution. It comes right off the top of your taxable income.

"When can I get my money?"

You can start taking money out of your IRA at age 59½. Of course, it's your money, and you can take it out any time you want. But the federal government imposes a 10% penalty for withdrawal

"I'll open my IRA by phone. Or answer any other questions you have about IRAs." — Mae Beth Tracy, IRA Hotline.

IRA Hotline: Call 868-4406

Available through April 15th:

HANCOCK BANK
Member FDIC
Strength • Stability • Integrity

before 59½. And if your money is in a fixed-rate time deposit, there may be an additional penalty.

So, think of your IRA as a long-term investment for retirement. Not a temporary tax shelter or savings for emergencies.

When you reach 59½, you can get your IRA in one lump sum, or set up a regular monthly income. Or, if you choose, you can wait until 70½ to start receiving payments.

"I only have a little to put in now. Would I have much by retirement?"

Let's say you're 30 years old, and in the 29% tax bracket. Look at how $50.00 a month would add up:

Estimated value at age 65 (based on 10% interest)
TOTAL DEPOSIT OVER 35 YEARS	$21,000.00
TAX SAVINGS	6,090.00
TOTAL INVESTMENT	14,910.00
ESTIMATED IRA VALUE	172,252.00
ESTIMATED MONTHLY PAYMENT FOR 15 YEARS	2,027.00
TOTAL RETURN	$364,858.00

"Can I really open my IRA over the phone?"

Yes. Just call Hancock Bank and ask for Mae Beth Tracy. She'll quote you our current rates. Explain our new self-directed IRAs.

She'll even fill out your application form for you while you're on the phone, and then mail it to you. So all you have to do is sign it at home and send it in with your first deposit.

Do you have a question?

If you've got a question about something we didn't cover here, please give us a call. Our IRA Hotline is open Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Mae Beth will be happy to answer any question you might have about IRAs. Big or small. At no obligation to you.

NEWS BRIEFS

Hospital costs

The U.S. average daily charge for a hospital semi-private room as of July, 1984 was $209. The range was $280 in the District of Columbia, $276 in California, and $110 in Mississippi.

(Source: Health Insurance News, Money Matters, 2/85)

Mississippi Prices, 3/15/85

Singing River Hospital, $118 includes phone, TV is $2.80 daily.

Ocean Springs Hospital, $125 all private rooms, includes phone, TV is $2.90 daily.

Biloxi Regional Medical Center, $132 includes phone, TV is $3.66 daily.

Gulf Coast Community Hospital, $136 phone and TV included (private room is $137).

Garden Park Community Hospital, $138 phone and TV included.

Gulfpport Memorial Hospital, $140 all private rooms, phone and TV included.

Buying tips for second homes—If you are thinking about buying a second home, here are things to consider:

—Never buy a vacation home as an investment. Buy because you want the home and can afford it.

—Waterfront property is the most expensive and holds its value best.

—You are a bigger risk to a lender if you must rent the home to cover some of the payments. You will be charged higher up-front fees and a higher mortgage rate. You probably will have to make a 14 percent down payment. Be sure you can handle lower than expected rental revenues and unexpected expenses.

—If you buy an old cabin, get it inspected, concentrating on wiring, plumbing and the roof. Have the title to the property searched. (Source: USA Today)

On generic products—

Generic or non-brand products have usually sold at a lower price than name-brand items. They have recently lost some of the share of the market. They are down to 9.2 percent of the market, from 11.0 percent in 1982. The reason: brand name items have improved quality, made innovations, increased identification through advertising and have even done some price cutting to recapture their market share.
